

The Tale of Sir Bevis

Lyrics by Matt Beames

Music by David Lewington

My Lords and Ladies, listen to our tale!
Of a noble heart that never did fail
Of giants and dragons and true love won
So runs the Tale of Bevis of Hampton

Ah x3

Young Bevis was brave, his heart good and pure
His love for Josyan was bound to endure
With his mighty steed and ancient sword blade
The monsters he fought were always afraid

Ah x3

He battled the great boar through the dark wood
Till at last he had won as heroes should
Betrayed by his lord, locked in a dark jail
He slew the great serpent, his heart didn't fail

Ah x3

He tamed a great giant and made him a friend
So they travelled on toward journey's end
And fought with the dragon that threatened the town
By slaying the beast he earned great renown

Ah x3

And so Lords and Ladies, this was our tale
Of Bevis the knight whose heart never failed
As long as we tell it his tale will live on
And men will remember Bevis of Hampton!
